THE WORLD55-DAY UNITED STATES DOCK STRIKE OVER

The 55-day U.S. longshoremen's strike came to an end last Saturday as workers at ports along the Gulf of Mexico gave near unanimous approval to a new contract.

The action was taken one day after workers along the U.S. South Atlantic coast agreed to end their strike. The White House said that President Johnson was "very pleased" that a settlement had been reached.

Most of the 60,000 longshoremen who struck ports from the Northeastern State of Maine to the Mexican border early in January accepted contracts and returned to work February 13. The gulf and South Atlantic coast workers were the last hold-outs.

By Monday, gulf and South Atlantic ports were expected to be operating again although loading of grain for India aboard some ships in the West gulf area actually began last Friday after a plea from India's Ambassador, B. K. Nehru.

The Indian official appealed to the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) of humanitarian grounds because of the threat of starvation to some Indians. Some 48 ships are expected to sail for India as soon as they are loaded, with the first ones leaving as early as possible.

An estimated 250 to 280 ships were said to have been immobilized in the South Atlantic and West gulf ports. The new contract for gulf workers gives them pay increases and fringe benefits, the establishment of a seniority system, and a guarantee of the minimum size of work forces loading ships. It also provides an 80-cent an hour pay raise over a four year period. The old hourly wage for deep sea dockers was $3.24 in the West gulf district.

MRS. KENNEDY TO ATTEND RUNNYMEDE
MEMORIAL DEDICATION

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widow of President Kennedy, plans to attend a ceremony at Runnymede, England, May 14, when Queen Elizabeth will dedicate a memorial to the late President, the State Department announced.

The memorial to Mr. Kennedy is being erected on a field at Runnymede, Southwest of London. The Magna Charta -- a charter of rights granted Englishmen by John -- was signed there in 1215.

Funds for the monument to the assassinated President were raised by private subscription.

CARIBBEAN TRADE UNION LEADERS ATTEND TRAINING SEMINAR

Trade Union leaders from five countries of the Caribbean area are gathering in Port of Spain, Trinidad, March 7-20 to attend a leadership training seminar sponsored jointly by the International Metal Workers Federation.

Approximately 18 representatives from Surinam, British Guiana, Trinidad, the Dominican Republic and Jamaica were expected to participate in the two-week study program. All are from unions affiliated with the Caribbean Bauxite and Mine Workers Federation.

The IMF is an international trade secretariat sponsored by the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions with headquarters in Brussels, Belgium. It represents some nine million metal and allied workers in 50 nations of the free world.

The central topics to be treated at the Caribbean seminar are background preparations for collective bargaining, including fact-finding and research methods; job evaluations programs; social and legal aspects of trade unionism, and means of promoting effective membership participation in trade union projects such as workers' education and community development.

Among the guest speakers and lecturers will be Dan Benedict, Assistant General Secretary of the IMF, Geneva, Switzerland; Hans Friedrichs, Research Director of the German Metal Workers; Eamon Park, Research Director of the Canadian Steel Workers (CSW); Gower Markle, Educational Director of the CSW; Alberto Carza, Latin American representative of the IMF, Mexico; Ben Segal, Director of the International Union of Electrical Workers' legal Department; Osmond Dyce, Secretary-Treasurer of the Caribbean Congress of Labor (CCL), Port of Spain; Basil Blackman, Educational Director of the CCL, and Carlisle Dunkley, Research and Educational Director of the National Workers Union of Jamaica.

CUBAN AGENTS REPORTEDLY INCREASE
SUBVERSION IN LATIN AMERICA

Cuban Communist agents are again stepping up subversion in some Latin American countries after earlier setbacks resulting from counter-measures taken by the Organization of American States (OAS) U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker said last week.

The U.S. Representative to the Council of the OAS talked with reporters following a closed-door meeting with the Inter-American Subcommittee of the House of Representatives Foreign Affairs Committee.

Congressman Armistead I. Selden, the sub-committee chairman, identified Venezuela and Guatemala as two of the countries in which renewed Communist efforts are being made.

Mr. Selden expressed the opinion that there is now a "lessening of communication" between Cuba and the other American Republics. He noted that all the American Republics, except Mexico, have broken diplomatic relations with Communist Cuba.

U.S. REVIEWS ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS TO INDONESIA

The United States is reviewing its assistance programs in Indonesia in the light of recent events in the nation, a U. S. State Department spokesman announced recently.

Department Press Officer Marshall Wright said future U.S. activity in Indonesia will depend on the results of this review. The U.S. aid program in Indonesia includes technical training, malaria eradication and assistance to educational institutions.

The latest incident straining U.S.-Indonesian relations occurred when a crowd of Indonesian high school and university students participated in what the State Department termed the "outrageous invasion" of the Djakarta residence of U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones. The State Department said, it was lodging a stiff protest.

Last week, Indonesia announced it was seizing two U.S.-owned rubber plantations in North Sumatra. In recent months U.S. Information Service libraries in Surabaya, Jogjakarta and Djakarta have been closed.

JOHNSON PROCLAIMS APRIL 14
PAN AMERICAN DAY

President Johnson, noting that April 14 marks the 75th anniversary of the Inter-American System embodied in the Organization of American States, has asked the nation to reaffirm its faith in the organization's ideals and goals for social and economic progress.

The President has proclaimed April 14 as Pan American Day and the week of April 18 through 24 as Pan American Week. He urged Governors of all 50 States and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico to issue similar proclamations.

The President said:

"The citizens of the free and independent Republics of the Hemisphere are a great society of nations, built on ideals of freedom and a tradition of cooperation and friendship. They are united in a mutual effort to root out the ills and injustices that mar our progress, and to enrich and elevate the lives of all our citizens. The Inter-American System is the cornerstone of this edifice; I urge all my fellow countrymen, individually and collectively through interested organizations, to reaffirm their faith in the Organization of American States on the occasion of its 75th anniversary.

"I call upon this nation to rededicate itself during this period to the ideals of the Inter-American States, and to the goals of economic and social progress of the Charter of Punta del Este, which are so firmly based on our common belief in the dignity of men, and on our faith in freedom."

WILKINS CONFERRED WITH PRESIDENT ON VOTE PROTECTION

Negro civil rights leader Roy Wilkins, met at the White House last week with President Johnson and said afterwards that the discussion underscored the President's desire to see the right to vote fully protected for all Americans, regardless of race.

Mr. Wilkins told newsmen the President expressed hope that the Attorney General will have new voting rights proposals ready shortly for the consideration of Congress.

THE WORLD (Cont'd)NEGRO VOTING SITUATION IN THE U.S.

In the U.S. national elections last November some six million Negroes were registered to vote. This was a record number and represented in large measure the gains in registration in the Southern States over the past decade.

The heart of the problem regarding Negro voter registration today centers on the "hard core" Southern States where various tests and other devices are used to hold down Negro voting. Yet even in these States the situation is mixed. In Georgia, for example, Negro voter registration is no problem in the major city and capital--Atlanta--but is low or non-existent in some rural areas.

In the rest of the country there are no bars to Negro voter registration other than residency and normal requirements applied to all voters.

Over the past 10 years, the number of Negroes registered to vote in the 11 States generally called "The South" rose from 1,008,614 to 2,164,200.

According to a recent article in the magazine U.S. News and World Report, in these 11 States 43 per cent of all Negroes of voting age were registered to vote. This compared to about 73 per cent of the whites.

If all Negroes in the South were registered to vote they would comprise about 22 per cent of the electorate in the region.

The comparison between percentages of Negroes and whites registered to vote in the South ranges from the extreme of Mississippi, where only 6.7 per cent of Negroes of voting age are registered as compared to 70.1 per cent of whites, to President Johnson's home State of Texas where the Negro percentage is higher than that for whites.

In Texas, 57.7 per cent of Negroes of voting age are registered to vote, compared to 53.2 per cent of whites.

In Tennessee, there is almost parity with 69.4 per cent for Negroes and 27.9 per cent for whites.

SECURITY COUNCIL TO MEET ON GAMBIA'S U.N. APPLICATION

The Security Council is scheduled to meet March 15 to take up Gambia's application for U.N. membership.

The council first deals with applications for membership and makes recommendations to the General Assembly which decides on admission.

The admission of Gambia would bring U.N. membership to 115 nations. With the recent withdrawal of Indonesia membership was reduced to 114.

THE CARIBBEAN

JAGAN'S BROTHER CHARGED

British Guiana police charged 19 top opposition politicians—including two ex-ministers, one a brother of Ex-Premier Dr. Cheddi Jagan—with violating the racial hostility regulations.

Among those accused were Mr. Derek Jagan, ex-Education Minister Cedric Nunes and PPP chairman Brindley Benn who is making a propaganda tour of Africa.

The 19 are all publishers of the P.P.P. newspaper edited by ex-Minister of Trade Jocelyn Hubbard.

Since Premier Forbes Burnham came to power in December, the paper has been conducting a campaign attempting to show that Mr. Burnham is following an anti-Indian policy.

The article that led to the charges was headlined: "The Persaud Affair." Mr. Persaud was formerly Secretary, who was shifted to another post when Mr. Burnham became Premier.

The "paper" claimed this shift was made for racial reasons.

SPARROW FOR VIRGIN ISLANDS

The Mighty Sparrow is to make a five-week tour of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and other islands in the Caribbean, beginning April 1.

He will head a 16-man troupe, which includes Lord Nelson, Bill Trotman and four other calypsonians still to be selected.

Manager of the party is British Guiana impresario, Cyril Shaw, who said two members of the party would come from British Guiana, and that Bertram Inniss and five of his band would accompany the singers.

The tour opens in Puerto Rico the first week in April, and places to be visited are St. Thomas, Antigua, St. Kitts, Dominica, St. Lucia, Grenada, Barbados, British Guiana, Surinam and French Guiana.

SWEDISH QUEEN DIES AT 75

Queen Louise, known to Swedish people as "Our English Lady," died last Sunday with King Gustaf Adolf at her bedside. She was 75.

She was rushed to hospital here on Thursday for an operation to clear a blood clot in her right leg. Her doctor said she died peacefully.

The Swedish Court later announced that the funeral will be held in Stockholm Cathedral on March 13.

The Queen was sister of Earl Mountbatten, Chief of Britain's Defence Staff, and Princess Andrew of Greece and aunt of the Duke of Edinburgh.

All Sweden was plunged into mourning at her death. Flags were lowered to half-mast, and church bells tolled in the capital for half an hour.

JAIL FOR BOGUS POPE

A 60-year-old defrocked priest, Claude Collin, told a Paris court that he had a tape-recorded message from God telling him he was the Pope.

Collin, self-styled Pope Clement XV, was appealing against a ten-month prison sentence reduced to a suspended six-month term and the fine to 1,000 francs ($360) after his lawyer said the money he obtained from a couple in eastern France had been returned in full.

MONKEY PAVING WAY FOR BRAIN TRANSPLANT

British Neurosurgeons, who have already successfully isolated a monkey's brain, are looking ahead to the day when brain transplants will be carried out on humans.

Professor Robert J. White, head of the team at the Metropolitan General Hospital, says a significant surgical advance in this direction occurred in 1964 with the "isolation of a viable monkey's brain."

Professor White, director of the hospital's Department of Neurosurgery, told of his team's experiment in the March edition of the scientific magazine "Discovery."

Blood circulation in the monkey's brain was maintained by using the blood from a larger monkey whose blood vessels were joined to those of the isolated brain.

He said the experiment showed it might eventually be possible to transplant a human brain from one person to another.

Dr. P. B. Medawar, a Nobel prize-winner, said in an article in the magazine it might also be possible to replace human hearts with organs from chimpanzees.

Transplantation of kidneys, hearts and livers between animals and men was a feasible task for modern surgery.

But Dr. Medawar, director of the National Institute for Medical Research, said until the "homograft problem" had been solved no method of transplanting organs permanently was possible.

He said the problem was caused by "the body naturally reacting against any foreign matter."

DIED

We regret to record the death of Mrs. MAY PHILIPS, who passed away at the San Pedro Hospital last Sunday evening at 11:00 p.m.

The deceased was admitted on Wednesday morning "not feeling well". On Friday and Saturday her condition seemed to have improved somewhat and she apparently was looking good up to visiting hours on Sunday. The end came suddenly the same evening.

A very impressive funeral took place on Monday from the house of mourning at J.M. No. 18, to the government cemetery in San Nicolas.

The funeral services were performed by Circuit Steward Mr. Bertie I. Viapree of the Methodist Church both at the home and at the grave in the presence of the large gathering.

The deceased was a very kind and pleasant person and was always ready and willing to assist her fellowmen at all times.

She is survived by her widower Calvin L. Philips, brother Joseph W. Brooks and nephew Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks, better known as Nita.

ECUMENICAL SERVICE AT INAUGURATION OF MARINE CHURCH AT SAVANETA

"A unique happening in the armed forces," was the reference made by chief fleet chaplain the Rev. J. Sepmeijer last Sunday morning when the new church in the Savaneta Marine Barracks was opened for use interchangeably by the Catholics and Protestants. "This does not mean," said the Chaplain, "that Rome and Dordt have reached agreement today, but by word and sacrament we all preach the same message of the crucified Christ in this church."

IN RETROSPECT

A few years ago, if someone had said that Arubans would have had to abandon their native soil and seek employment elsewhere, he would have been laughed at.

It's the "stranhero" that must leave their houses for the goats to run in, was the saying of a famous personality not too long ago.

At that time, lay-offs were just as rampant as they are today. Lago had a force of near 7000 which had to be trimmed down to the barest minimum, but most of these 7000 employees were foreigners--non-Arubans. They occupied the highest paying position in the refinery and sported their luxury cars and believed they would never be deposed, the good life would never come to an end.

But came the strike in 1951 and the tables began to turn. Some of the leaders at the time were branded subverters and were deported. They had to be get rid of because they were opening the eyes of the Arubans who had always been a peaceful people and had no aspirations to power.

Then commenced a period of divide-and-rule. Employees were pitted against each other because of their place of origin, and political parties did no better to close the breach. They came up with such phrases as "netamente Arubano" and "puro Arubano" and life for the "Stranhero", were he from the British West Indies or from other parts of the Netherlands Antilles, became unbearable.

No longer did he dread leaving his heretofore comparative comfort to face the unknown, but welcomed the opportunity to be considered for "mutual accord" termination, which simply means that he desires to leave as much as the Company would like him to go.

But the constant drain of the "non-rationals" from Aruba must take its toll. Shops are becoming empty and San Nicolas, the once boom town, is almost a ghost town. The pay days merchants eagerly looked forward to, are no longer days of huge ingathering. The activity on pay days is scarcely noticeable, except for a few extra drunks about the streets and these, too are becoming fewer.

Now that the "Stranheros" are all but gone, the sword is swinging in the opposite direction, the direction of the Arubans. They are now being encouraged to leave their native land to go abroad to Holland where there are presumably better opportunities to make money, and every effort is being made to expedite their migration.

This migration, however, when looked at closely, can be termed an exchange. In one profession, for instance-- the teaching profession-- we still see our brother from across the sea holding the important positions. Not that we envy him, but we are wondering why our own people cannot qualify for these positions. Is it because we have not learned to be more reliable and dependable in our business dealings? Perhaps we do need to go abroad and suffer the pinch, so that we can learn to appreciate better what we have at home.

SERIOUS INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENT AT BARCADERA

Last Thursday an industrial accident took place at the Aruba Chemical Industries at Barcadera. Employee C. Kelly while working fell on a conveyor belt and some moments later he was dropped into the funnel with extended arms at the end of the belt, where his hand was caught by the mechanism. The victim sustained serious injuries and was immediately transported to San Pedro Hospital. Today his condition was somewhat better.

SIX-YEAR-OLD BOY SHOT

A man reported to the Police in Santa Cruz that his little son had fallen suddenly while playing in the yard last Friday evening. He had a wound in his chest. The father who thought this was caused by the fall, took the boy to the doctor the next morning. When an X-ray was made in the hospital, it appeared that the 6-year-old boy had a bullet in his chest. The bullet entered the thorax on the left and lodged on the right side under the ribs. He was critically injured. The Detective Department is investigating who has committed this act.

LABOR SHORTAGE CRITICAL IN HOLLAND

EEC experts are of opinion that Dutch business and industry will still require 10,000 foreign workers this year, in addition to the 8,000 aliens actively employed in Holland by the end of 1964. Inasmuch as there is a notable turnover among foreign workers in Holland, it would be wise to recruit three times as many workers, or 30,000 men, from abroad in the course of this year. This was stated in a report by experts on the situation of the labor market in the six EEC countries.

x x x x

At a press conference held on Monday, Lago Management and the Union jointly released a report in connection with job opportunities in Holland and Surinam as investigated and observed by N. P. Schindeler of Lago and F. L. Maduro of the Union during their recent Lago-sponsored exploratory trip there.

The men reported that anybody who wants to work, skilled or unskilled, can take advantage of immediate employment and other opportunities in Holland, said Mr. F. L. Maduro, president of the Independent Oil Workers Union of Aruba, "Anybody without a job here, would be much better off in Holland. There is definitely job security there, not only for skilled but for the unskilled as well."

He added that the present employment situation in Aruba is only an indication of greater problems to come in the years ahead, unless many heads of families take advantage of Holland's labor shortage and other opportunities.

Many of these presently surplus employees have several children, he said, who will be entering Aruba's saturated labor market in the next few years and many of these children, because of financial reasons, perhaps, will not have had the advantage of higher education. There is no question but that when labor is in excess, the least educated suffer first, he concluded.

Mr. Schindeler, describing some of the groundwork laid on the trip, pointed out that "now we have a definite organization that can contact employers to determine the kinds and extent of their labor needs, arrange for meeting and guiding persons going to Holland for interviews and, at the same time, this organization can further assist resettled families during the early stages following arrival in Holland."

He went on to state that both he and Mr. Maduro were optimistic that as more and more information became available, clearly demonstrating "just how great the opportunities are in Holland" more persons would begin taking advantage of them.

During their stay, Messrs. Schindeler and Maduro also visited several Antilleans already resettled. These included Mr. Matias Maduro, who was Lago's first married employee to resettle in Holland with his entire family.

Both men agreed that as far as work is concerned all were doing fine, they liked their work and the employers liked them. The two men added that the Antilleans were being accepted by the community. In the beginning, all experienced some difficulty in adapting themselves to climate and other changed conditions, but they had adapted very quickly and very well.

While in Holland, they also made arrangements to produce a movie which will demonstrate clearly how resettled Antilleans are progressing in their new surroundings. The film included the Matias Maduro family capturing different aspects of family life in Holland--schools the children attend, markets where housewives shop, and footage showing Antilleans on the job.

Some specific points discussed by Messrs. Schindeler and Maduro included:

HOUSING: There is a general housing shortage in Holland, but many employers have housing available for both bachelors and families. "We have been fortunate enough to make contact with some of these firms." When housing is available, it is usually new housing and contains excellent facilities. Average price for a three-bedroom apartment is about twenty (20) Dutch guilders per week.

TYPES OF EMPLOYMENT AVAILABLE: There are jobs for everybody, men and women alike.

Particularly critical areas are: tradesmen of all kinds, such as welders, pipe-fitters, instrumentmen, machinists, etc., office workers, construction workers, storehouse personnel, maintenance and janitorial personnel. Anybody who wants to work can find employment, whether skilled, semi-skilled or unskilled.

COST OF LIVING: On the average, the cost of living is lower in Holland than in Aruba. The actual types of expenses differ. There are many items lower and some items which are higher.

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES: Educational opportunities are far greater in Holland for both the advanced education of the children and the advanced vocational training of the parents. Cost of education there is very cheap.

SOCIAL BENEFITS: Social benefits are excellent and compare favorably with any place in the world.

Regarding the Surinam trip, both men agreed that work opportunities were abundant, but noted "There are work opportunities, but primarily for specially skilled workers. They prefer Surinamers."

VETS-ASIENTO ENDS IN DRAW

By: C. A. Brown -

At the Lago Sport Park in brilliant sun shine and the weather ideally suited to cricket, Skipper Mendes won the toss and elected to bat on a perfect wicket. The Vets started badly, losing 4 wickets with only 14 runs on the board. But a good stand by Skipper Mendes and Hemstrack Junior made the score look more respectable -- 53 for 5 wickets. But more spectator entertainment and an exhibition of skill were yet to come, when Rivers and Perotte came together; they drove the ball delightfully and made some astonishing sixes, and Rivers 21 runs in one over off the bowling of Skipper Worrell delighted the spectators. Of course, K. Perotte who top scored for the Vets, was no less spectacular than his partner -- Rivers. At no time did the two batsmen adopt a passive defensive policy; they abandon all fear of losing their wicket, and hit the ball hard and regular.

After a very poor start, the Vets recovered nicely; and were all out for 192 runs.

Asiento Bats

The Asiento opening batsmen started slowly and surely; and runs came in the same manner. After a few wickets had fallen -- Guillen a very forceful batsman started very shaky, but soon found the range and hid driving, cutting and looking delighted the spectators. Hooker was the only other batsman who put some beef in the ball: his cover drives were delightful to watch; the spectators enjoyed his stroke-play.

Thanks to a remarkably sustained spell of bowling by Havertong that the Vets prevented the Asiento team from placing themselves in a better position. The Asiento team were all out for 165 runs.

Vets Second Innings

With 27 runs in the lead and a splendid display of batting by Skipper Mendes, and again Rivers who made 22 runs in an over off the bowling of Skipper Worrell, enabled the Vets to declare at tea, with the score at 105 for 5 wickets, giving the Asiento team one hour to bat and 133 runs for victory.

Asiento Second Innings

The Asiento players considered the declaration of Skipper Mendes a sporting chance, which it was; they decided to go for the runs, but 4 wickets went down quickly with only 15 runs on the board. The other batsmen then decided to play the remaining 15 minutes quickly and the match ended in a draw.

Commentary

The match was played in a very friendly atmosphere and Mr. Elvers (the manager) of the Asiento team was quite satisfied with the two days of cricket, but, perhaps not with the entire performance of his team.

The Captaincy was very good indeed and Havertong and Rivers bowled with immaculate control, so much must be credited to them. I think that Keeper Ramsey was at his best and considering the very poor form of the Vets, I think that they did very well. The umpiring was very good; it could be compared with the umpiring in any first class cricket match. No "home decisions." It was a splendid week end of very good cricket.

RUMORS

FROM SABA

There is an abundance of irish potatoes on the island. It was reported one man wanted to buy over a grower's surplus for less than the market price to enable him to sell them in St. Maarten and make a fair profit.

The grower refused, preferring "to let them rot".

FROM ST. CROIX:

Persistent rumors had it that the welder's recently recruited by Chicago Bridge to work in St. Croix, ran into a strike when they got there. They were considered strike breakers and so the rumors say, several were severely beaten.
